higher and unfurled it to the winds. The aid rode off and the spectators began to jeer. There were a large number of Junior Order men around and they were particularly incensed. They called back the aid and insisted that the German flag be removed. The officer thus urged rode into the ranks and took hold of the banner. He tried to take it away from the men who carried it, but the men in the ranks quickly surrounded the aid and essayed to beat him off. A GREAT ACHEME.

Col. Caspar's Proposed Plan of Producbig Showers of Raln.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2,-Col. D. T. Caspar, who has been connected with the signal service since its feundation, early in the seventies, is at present stopping in this city. Talking of the service,

"A curious little clause was tacked on to the appropriation bill while it was before the senate, and went through the legislative mill innocently enough and is now a law. It provides that, under the direction of the forestry division of the department of agriculture, $2,000 shall be expended on experiments in the artificial production of rainfall.

"There are those who are disposed to make medy over this provision of the appropriation bill, but really there is nothing so very absurd about it. doubt there is plenty of moisture in the atmosphere at all times, if only it could be gathered in the right place and be made to fail upon the earth. Man has accomplished as difficult things as that in the realm of applied science. Then why not chat? It is not contemplated. however, so produce rainfall by the slow growth of forests in the arid regions. The success of that method is still disputed. Under the new law it is proposed to find out whether rainfall can be produced by electricity, dynamite explosions or other magazital agencies.

"Taking the cue from the fact that heavy car no ading on a battlefield or a Fourth of July celebration is followed by copious raids, the experimenters will work accordingly. The process of burning powder to produce rain has hitherto been too expensive to warrant its general use, but possibly cheaper ex-plosives will be found. It has been pro-posed among other things to attach twenty-five pounds of dynamite to a small b dloon and then send a llock of such ballo as in the air with lighted fases attached. At any rate," concluded the colonel. "one way or the other the arid lands of this country are bound to be brought under splendid cultivation sooner or later. They comprise some of the most fertile soil on earth."

"I will tell you when there is agitation in the sick room," said a nurse. 'It is when the women of the household think that a male patient is foud of a nurse. It is often the case that a sick man, exhausted and feeble, ellinging to life like a drowning man to a straw, will want to hold your hand. Now, in such cases my hand performs the same sort of duty that the straw would. I let the patient hold it as I would let a baby hold my watch charm. But if it is the son of the house, and the women folks see it, they literally raise the roof. If it is the head of the house, and they see it and offer any ob jections, he generally does the roof raising act. I know of a case where the night nurse of a very famous man, who died not long since, could not get him to sleep with out sitting by his side and letting him hold her hand. # Trade Union Congress

It is Enthusiastically Opened in Liverpool.

IMPORTANT GATHERING.

The Congress is the Largest of the Kind Ever Held-Labor Leaders all Over Europe Keeping Watch Over Its Deliberations-Other Foreign News.

London, Sept. 2.—The opening of the trades unions' congress at Liverpool yesterday was marked by the greatest enthusiasm. The prominent labor agitators-Burns, Mann, Tillett and others -were wildly applauded. In the course of his address, John Burns warned the congress that it was necessary to keep the labor movement ont of politics. As it was essentially an economic question and had nothing to do with Liberalism or Conservatism as such.

The congress is by far the largest and most important of the kind ever held. The steady and rapid growth of trade unionism, its importance to all men who labor in large bodies, the victories it has won for its supporters, all combine to make the present meeting significant. ns much depends upon its decisions and decrees. Employers of labor are keeping as anxious a watch over the deliberations of the body as the workmen who are represented in it by delegates.

While labor has been tending toward more and more perfect organizations capital has also been concentrating in syndicates and combinations, and its dillicult to predict how much further the two movements can be pushed without reaching a point of collision or deadlock. The Socialists emphasize this difficulty, and their partisians in the congress are ready to argue that, dispite its apparent success, trade unionism is but a temporary expedient, which will ultimably be circumvented by the capitalist employers who are in a position to outline the employes when it comes to a final struggle.

The Socialists therefore claim that nothing short of a radical change in the wage system will effect a permanent uplifting of the masses to a condition of reasonable comfort. But the Socialists are in a hopeless minority in the congress, and nothing revolutionary is likely to come of the meeting.

The London dockers and gas workers, the Liverpool wood cutters, lightermen and leather workers are represented now for the first time in a general labor con-

Among the most prominent representatives of labor present are Messis. Broadhurst, Burt and John Wilson, members of parliament, John Burns. Thomas Mann, Ben. Pickard, Clem Edwards, Hayden Saunders and George-Shipton. Lady Wilky. Beatrice Patter and Miss Routledge, secretery of the Womans' Trades Conneil, are looking after the womens interest.

The program of the congress is: First-Employers liability bill. Second-Certificates of competency for men in charge of steam engines and Third—The desirability of increasing the unmber of factory and worksnop inspectors.

Fourth-Public contracts and fair Fifth-The right of relatives of deceased miners to be represented at coroners' inquests, Sixth-Co-operation and its relation to trades unionism.

Seventh-Representation of labor in parliament.

Eightn-Eight-hour day. The discussion on the last named question will probably be exceedingly animated as its advocates and opposers are nearly equal, most of the new nnions favoring the limitation of working hours by legislation, while the older and more con ervative unions have instructed their delegates to oppose such a view at present. The election of a new secretary of the parliamentary labor committee will also arouse a hard struggle during the meet-

The congress is held in Hope hall.
The mayor of Liverpool welcomed the delegates and all the city officers are exerting themselves to make everything pleasant for their gnests. The morning's session was largely devoted to the reading of annual reports by the president, Wm. Watkins, who is general secretary of the Carpenters' and Joinors' union, and by the secretary, Joseph Goodman, who is also secretary of the Liverpool trade's conneil. The afternoon and evening were devoted to excursions and sightsecing.

BLUE SUNDAY AT WHEELING. Law and Order Headquarters Mobbed.

Overdoing the Business. WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The Law and Order league Sandar inaugarated a wholesale enforcement of the Sunday laws. Every saloon in the city was closed. Not a eigar, giass of sola water or dish of ice cream could be parchased in any part of the town, and nothing but necessary medicines could be bought at the drug stores. The ice wagons were not run and great inconvenience was felt.

Sunday night the nffair reached a climax when a mob of men and boys stormed the Law and Order headquarters. President Watkins was struck twice and badly lmrt. Outside of the Law and Order people the community is generally disgusted with this enforcement of the blue laws, and it is predicted that the reform will fall by the weight of its odiousnes. in not stopping with the closing of the liquor saloons.

Had the movement stopped there. public sentiment would have sust fined it, but owing to the extreme measures taken, there was a revulsion of feeling throughout the city. The next move, it is said, will be on the newspapers. Even the news dealers remained closed, and Sunday papers were delivered only to regular subscribers.
